Metaphors

- _____: These represent the insidious danger posed by false teachers. They appear harmless on the surface, but like hidden reefs, they can cause shipwreck and destruction for those who are unprepared or unaware.
- _____: This highlights the empty promises and lack of spiritual substance offered by these deceptive individuals. They create a sense of expectation, like clouds that might bring rain to a parched land, but ultimately deliver nothing. they are swept along by the winds of culture, lacking a firm foundation in God's word.
- _____: Jude uses this image to illustrate the spiritual barrenness of false teachers. They are like trees that appear alive but produce no good fruit, revealing their lack of genuine faith and devotion to God.
